Long-term goals

• The long-term goals are to utilize meta-proteomics to decipher community function in soils

• Why should we care about “proteins”?
  – Biological processes are carried out by functional proteins
  – Diversity studies are providing insights but need to know more about community “function”